

HOSTAGE DRAMA IN COPENHAGEN

Upper: Two special forces from the rescue team seen running.

Photo: Anonymous.

The International Olympic Committee (IOC) is taking both the monarchy and the Danish democracy hostage, when they are expected to appoint the Danish Crown Prince as an IOC member this Wednesday. As an IOC member, the Crown Prince will be swearing allegiance towards the IOC, and thereby taking a political stance.

This was exactly what happened when the Crown Prince opposed all experts, and claimed that human rights were improving in China. This is a huge problem for the Danish democracy, since he is the soon-to-be head of state, perceived to be representing Denmark, and therefore supposed to steer clear of politics.

If you also want to show the world that this is not the Danish democracy worthy, then copy this text and spread it to friends and family. And if you really mean it, show up to a peaceful demonstration under the parole: "Free our democracy and free the Prince" on Wednesday the 7th of October at 9 am at the Bella Centre, when the Crown Prince is appointed as member of the IOC.

DRGB